National Energy Assistance Directors' Association

NEADA is the primary education and policy organization for the state directors of the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program. (www.neada.org)

National Fuel Funds Network

NFFN consists of 300+ member organizations and utilities that administer, promote and financially support charitable energy assistance programs. The Network builds capacity of member programs and advocates for federal energy aid. At the National Energy and Utility Affordability Conference, NFFN's members will exchange information, receive training and improve professional practices. NFFN members will also shape national policy initiatives, fashion NFFN programs and recognize achievement. (www.nationalfuelunds.org)

National Low Income Energy Consortium

NLIEC represents all segments of the low-income energy community and works toward coordinated solutions to low-income energy and utility problems. NLIEC is dedicated to heightening awareness of the energy needs of low-income consumers and to developing and promoting innovative programs and public-private partnerships to address those needs.
